Your Coach:

Elena Zgurska

I am a professional leadership coach, certified by the International Coaching Federation (ICF). My extensive business experience over many years includes different managerial positions and leading multinational teams.

In the past two years, I have focused on people-centric agendas, delving deeply into mental health and leadership topics. My mission is to empower people to become true leaders of their own lives and to nurture the leaders of the future.

As a member of the multiprofessional team at the Heart-Based Center Basel, I have learned to unleash the power of the Heart-Based Medicine Principles in Leadership Coaching programs.

I'd love to inspire you to explore your full potential.

The Heart-Based Center

The Heart-Based Center is a health center for Heart-Based medical, therapeutic and coaching advice and assistance. Heart-Based Medicine is a competence that can be taught, acquired and studied like any other proficiency. The multi-professional team is guided by the philosophy and findings of the Heart-Based Medicine Foundation, which scientifically researches, validates and communicates the energy potential and healing power of love and human-centered medicine.

The Heart-Based Center services include therapy, counselling and coaching.

I look forward to meeting you.
